

Now Available: Your New Water Quality Report

We know how much the quality of the water that you and your family drink means to you, so once again we're proud to give you all the details on the full range of tests we're running on your drinking water.

You'll find the latest report for your system at aquarionwater.com/wqr. It also contains information about your system's water source, how we ensure its quality and how you can conserve water.

For a paper copy, call 1-800-832-2373 or email waterquality@aquarionwater.com.

Did You Know?
Your body needs about eight glasses of water per day to stay hydrated. However, this can vary depending on factors like climate, activity level, and overall health.

Celebrating the Safe Drinking Water Act

Until 50 years ago, people had no way of knowing the quality of their water. It wasn't until 1974 that the U.S. had a strong, nationwide set of quality standards for its drinking water.

The benefits have been many. Topping the list are the health gains from reducing pollutants in the water supply. Today, Aquarion protects your supply from its source to your home, and regularly monitors, tests and reports to you on its quality.

So next time you get a glass of water from your tap, raise it in a toast to the 50th anniversary of the Safe Drinking Water Act.
